NEGROES FIRED UPON.

Importation of Men to Take Strikers' Places Ends in Blood.

MIDNIGHT SHOOTING BOUT.

Unknown Parties Shoot at a Delegation of Colored Miners Who Were Being Conveyed to the Sunnyside Mine, Wounding Several.

Evansville, Ind., June 21.—The first bloodshed of the miners' strike that has been in progress here for two months occurred shortly after midnight.

It had been decided by the proprietors of the Sunnyside mine that foreign miners would be imported to start the mines. This decision was made known to the union men when the Chicago scale had been offered them without recognizing the union.

About 30 colored miners from Madisonville, Ky., came in over the L. & N. and were met at the station by James H. Moore, bookkeeper and a stockholder in the Sunnyside company.

The wagonette was driven by Edward Geiger, son of the proprietor of a large furniture store, and one of the most popular young men in the city.

The company's plant is located on the northwestern edge of the city, about a quarter of a mile from the salt wells, and is reached by a road branching from the right of West Maryland street.

Mr. Moore and Ed Geiger were in the front part of the wagonette. While the vehicle was passing a vacant lot just before making a turn in the road to go to the mines, parties on sides of the road fired in the dark upon the men in the wagonette.

The volley produced great excitement among the occupants of the vehicle and the driver, whipping up his horses, hurried to the mine, while those who had done the firing escaped in the darkness.

A few minutes later, Patrolman Ruston appeared on the scene, having been attracted by the firing. It seems that one or two of those who had fired on the wagonette remained in the neighborhood and seeing the policeman opened fire on him. The shot struck against the back part of his helmet and he was not injured. Three other officers reached the place soon afterwards, but they were not fired upon.

Physicians Summoned.
Physicians were summoned immediately, the men were put in a place of safety and the wounded men given every attention. Moore, who was suffering intensely, refused to be given attention until the men were disposed of safely. He is at St. Mary's hospital and is resting easy with some hopes of recovery.

Charles Smith, one of the wounded negroes, is considered in a critical condition.

John Philipps, another negro seriously injured, is in better condition with hopes for his recovery.

Ed Geiger, the driver, whose ear was clipped off, has a severe wound.

Henry Smith, colored, and John Norsweather, also colored, were slightly wounded.

The assault upon these men has caused a feeling of uneasiness to prevail in this city. It is feared the scenes at Pana will be re-enacted here if further attempt is made to import miners.

The Sunnyside mine remains closed and the imported men are in hiding. The proprietors refuse to discuss the affair at all and refuse to divulge any plans.

The serious wounding of Moore, their bookkeeper, has made a deep impression on the management. The mine is getting into a serious condition because of lack of operation. It is a machine mine and for this reason the longer it remains idle the heavier its loss.

Fred Dilcher, the national committeeman of the mine workers, and State Secretary Kennedy, deny all knowledge of the shooting and say they are as much surprised as any one over the affair.

Vaccination Ordered.

Havana, June 21.—Major General Ludlow issued an order directing a general re-vaccination in Havana. It is the result of a few small sporadic cases of smallpox. He desires to maintain the exceptional health conditions and record. No attempt will be made to secure lymph from the United States, and the supply of a thousand points now on hand is for the most part ineffective. The authorities, however, have a lot of fine calves that are well cared for on the city farm and these will serve the purpose. It is estimated that within 30 days 17,000 people will be vaccinated.

FIRE IN A HOTEL.

One Guest Suffocated and Eight Others Injured.

Oswego, N. Y., June 21.—The Eagle hotel was destroyed by fire. Mrs. Rachel King, an old lady, whose home is in New Haven, lost her life by suffocation and eight others were seriously injured. The fire started in the kitchen and spread rapidly. Several persons, including the proprietor and his wife, jumped from the windows on the second floor.

The building was a frame structure two stories high. Mrs. King occupied a front room and was dead when discovered. Following is a list of injured: Alfred Johnson, face and hands burned; Mrs. James Doyle, wife of the proprietor, face and breast burned; James Doyle, Miss Cora Doyle, James Bachman and Thomas Gallagher, Oswego, J. J. Salladin, Syracuse, Mrs. Ida Haines, Scriba, face and hands blistered.

Overshine's Report.

Washington, June 21.—Brigadier General Samuel Overshine, commanding the Second brigade, First division of the army in the Philippines has reported upon the action of his command in the first fight with the Filipinos. There was some very brisk fighting done by his brigade. The insurgents were shelled by the Sixth artillery also by the Monadnock from the bay and after the heavy firing Captain Ed Murphy, with a detachment of the Fourteenth infantry, did excellent service in driving the insurgents from a strong position. General Overshine says Major Frank White, with a battalion of the First North Dakota, left the trenches and made a gallant and effective charge on the insurgents concealed in thickets in front of his position.

Carpenter Promoted.

Washington, June 21.—The list of officers who have succumbed to the hardships of the military campaign in the Philippines has been completed by the disability of David D. Van Valzah, commanding the Eighteenth regular infantry. In view of his physical condition he applied to the war department for retirement under the statute authorizing the retirement of officers on their own application after 30 years' service. His application has been approved and the vacancy thus created has been filled by the promotion of Lieutenant Colonel Gilbert S. Carpenter of the Seventh infantry.

Washington, June 21.—Prof. A. D. Schweinitz, who attended the international tuberculosis congress at Berlin as a delegate from the United States, reports briefly to the state department that the special object for which the congress was called, namely, arousing interest in the erection of sanatoriums for the poor, especially for the working classes, will be greatly advanced. According to the present German laws, each laborer and each employer of laborers, is required to pay a very small tax which is utilized in taking care of the tuberculosis poor.

WITH THE PRESIDENT.

Chief Executive Continues His Trip in New England States.

GALA DAY AT SPRINGFIELD.

In His Trip on the Steamer Mascot Advantages of Navigation Are Pointed Out, but the Chief Executive Makes No Promises.

Springfield, Mass., June 21.—This was McKinley day. The city was gaily decorated in honor of the president's visit and vast crowds thronged the streets, everyone anxious to see and shake hands with the president.

The little steamer Mascot arrived at her dock at 11:30 from South Holyoke, and was accorded a hearty reception by the flotilla of gaily decorated boats which clustered about the craft and from thousands who lined the river bank.

At Holyoke, a reception committee from Springfield, headed by Mayor Gilmer, met the president and party. During this trip the navigation committee of this city gave the president an object lesson regarding the immense advantage which would accrue to Holyoke were the river opened for navigation as far as the latter city. The president evinced much interest in the idea, but made no promises.

On arrival at Springfield the presidential party were taken in carriages for a drive around the city. Later they were driven through the armory grounds where a national salute was fired and then they were taken to the Noyasset club for luncheon.

One pretty feature of the drive was the children from the various schools massed in front of their buildings and at each place two little girls advanced and placed a handsome bouquet in the hands of President and Mrs. McKinley.

After luncheon the ladies remained at the club building while the president and the other gentlemen were taken to the city hall, where a large platform had been erected.

At 2:30 p. m. the presidential party boarded the special train for Adams, Mass., where the president will spend a week with W. B. Plunkett. Brief stops were made at Westfield and Pittsfield.

Watterson on Politics.

New York, June 21.—Henry Watterson told a reporter that he had not come to New York for the purpose of conferring with gold Democrats, or any other Democrats, despite the reports to that effect which have been sent out from Louisville. "I only learned Tuesday," said Mr. Watterson, "that I am ready to make arrangements for a meeting of sound money Democrats. I had not been previously advised of this. I know nothing about any such conferences. I would not attend one if I were invited to do so. I am out of politics and unadvised of the purposes and doings of the practical or professional politicians. I have no doubt whatever that Mr. Bryan and the platform of 1896 will be repeated at Chicago."

May Appoint Denny.

Lexington, Ky., June 21.—It is stated that Governor Bradley will appoint Judge George Denny, jr., of this city, commonwealth's attorney to investigate and prosecute the murder of Tom Baker. Judge Denny has had much experience with mountaineers and is perfectly fearless. The report that Tom Baker's widow is dying is untrue. Nor will she leave the county, but says she will cling to her mountain home though she herself be shot by the cowardly assassins who killed her husband.

Will Survey the Coast.

San Francisco, June 21.—The coast and geodetic survey steamer Patterson has sailed for St. Michael to make a survey of that portion of Bering sea on the route to the Alaskan gold fields. A year ago systematic work was begun in this region. This year the seaward approaches of the Yukon are to be developed in connection with parties in small boats continuing the tracings of the delta channels and their devious ways through the great bank to the deep water of the sea.

Yellow Fever Breaks Out.

Washington, June 21.—Yellow fever has broken out at Santiago as shown by the bulletin posted at the war department in which the deaths of three privates are ascribed to the dread disease.

STREET CAR TRACKS

Torn Up and Piled High With Obstructions.

Cleveland, June 21.—After a conference lasting three hours between representatives of the strikers and street car company, it was announced that President Everett would stand by his ultimatum.

This, in effect, says the company will not discharge a single man hired since the strike began, will not recognize the union and will re-instate such old men as have not been guilty of acts of violence. President Everett says this means the reinstatement of about 60 per cent. of the strikers. The strikers at once held a meeting to consider this meeting and went into secret session. The serious riot on the south side during the evening was the prelude to a series of minor disturbances carried on all through the night. In every part of the city switches were destroyed, rails torn up, and the tracks piled high with obstructions. These were removed by the police. No attempt was made to run cars over lines where trouble was anticipated and both sides are awaiting the result of the conference.

At noon when two cars passed over the Superior viaduct about 500 men and boys working in factories near by and on the flats assembled and for 10 minutes there was a serious riot. Missiles fairly filled the air for a time. Several passengers on both cars were struck by flying missiles and the cars were damaged. No one was seriously injured. The call for the whistle of the factories for the men to return to work put an end to the riot.

A crowd of men and boys barricaded the tracks at Cedar and West Madison avenues at noon. Passing cars were stoned and several passengers bruised by missiles.

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS

Wrestle With Question of Naming a Candidate For Governor.

UNFAVORABLE TO HARDIN.

In Preliminary Work of the Convention the Stone-Goebel Combine Seem to Have a Little the Best of It.

Louisville, June 21.—The Democratic state convention which met at Music hall was an interesting gathering.

Although two of the leading candidates for governor, Captain W. J. Stone and William Goebel, have agreed to combine their forces in an attempt to organize the convention. The main issue is yet to be fought out between these gentlemen and General P. W. Hardin, who controls the largest number of instructed delegates.

The effectiveness of the Stone-Goebel combination depends largely upon the ability of Captain Stone to control 360 or more delegates instructed for him. Goebel's strength of 200 instructed delegates is considered a fixed quantity. If these forces succeed in organizing the convention the disposal of the 200 or more contested seats probably will give them a winning advantage.

This will result in the nomination of Captain Stone for governor, while Mr. Goebel will control the remainder of the ticket, and the state central committee. The most prominent names on the Goebel slate are J. W. C. Beekham, of Nelson county, for lieutenant governor; John S. Smith, of Bourbon, for attorney general, and John C. Chennault, of Madison, for auditor.

The Hardin forces, however, are sincerely confident of their ability to control the situation. They count upon defections from the Stone forces to give them a majority of the delegates.

The district conventions were unfavorable to Hardin who organized but four of the 11 districts.

When the convention was called to order by Chairman Johnson, the Stone-Goebel people placed Judge David P. Redwine in nomination for temporary chairman. W. H. Sweeney, of Marion county, was nominated by the Hardin faction.

The first ballot resulted: Redwine 510, Sweeney 446, but a number of counties were passed on account of contests and the vote was held up pending a decision as to how the vote of these counties was to be cast.

As 547 votes were required to elect a temporary chairman and there were enough contested delegates to throw the victory to either side this proved the turning point of the factional fight.

There was a warm controversy lasting an hour or more over the construction to be placed on a resolution adopted by the state central committee giving the chairman instructions that were supposed to be explicit as to which delegates he should recognize from counties where there were contests.

State Railroad Deal.

Chattanooga, June 21.—Frank S. Hambleton and Thomas L. Felder, of Baltimore, W. H. Halesh, of New York, and Colonel C. C. Howell, of Tennessee, and officials of the Chattanooga Electric Street Railway company and one of the Lookout Mountain inclines held an important meeting here and practically closed arrangements for the eastern capitalists to buy the street railway system and one or both of the mountain inclines. The deal carries with it an arrangement to expend $500,000 in improvements.

The health of Rudyard Kipling, who was among the passengers, improved during the voyage. When interviewed here he spoke highly of the kindness he had received from Americans. The Teutonic proceeded to Liverpool.

THE TURNPIKE PROBLEM.

The Council will meet this evening to decide whether the 300 shares of stock held by the city in the Lexington pike and the 100 shares in the Germantown pike shall be donated to the county, to be used in the purchase of those two roads and of the Mt. Sterling pike. One thing is pretty certain and that is, if the donation is made it means the prompt settlement of a question that has proved one of the most vexatious as well as one of the costliest that has ever confronted the county.

We understand the proposition is not favored by all the members of Council. This is not surprising under the circumstances. Things have occurred that have engendered considerable prejudice and feeling in the hearts of some toward the companies, or rather towards certain prominent officers of the companies. This is to be regretted, for if we are to allow our prejudices, instead of our cool and sober business judgment to control us, the question is liable to drag along for months, and prove far more costly than ever before.

Then there are others who may not be prejudiced in the matter, but who think the stock is really worth a thousand dollars or so more than the price mentioned in the proposition. Let this be conceded, and then let us all lay aside our prejudices and animosities and face the question as a simple business proposition.

It is not necessary to tell the Councilmen that they are chosen by the people to look after the city's interests, they know that already. If the donation of this stock will at once settle the turnpike problem and give the county free roads, it looks like there should be no hesitation on the part of Council, for Maysville is now more vitally interested in free roads than all the rest of the county. The counties surrounding us all have free roads now, and the trade that rightfully belongs to us as a city is going elsewhere. People will not pay taxes for free pikes and then pay toll to get into Maysville when they can travel over free roads to other points, many of which are just as convenient to them. If the question is settled promptly and the gates removed from these three leading thoroughfares, the increased trade Maysville will enjoy will offset the $3,000 donation many times over by next January.

Again, if the question is not settled now and if the guards are continued at the gates, as is very probable, at most of them anyhow, Maysville's proportion of the cost of these guards will shortly amount to more than the value of her stock in the roads.

As to the value of this stock, that is rather problematical. It is fixed at $6,000 in the proposition and it might be worth a little more than that if the question is settled on the basis named in the proposition. But suppose the proposition is declined and there is no settlement of this turnpike question now, the value of this stock will almost inevitably continue to depreciate the longer the matter remains unsettled, and it may reach that point where the city would receive but a trifle, comparatively, for the stock. In the mean time Maysville would be losing all the benefits of the increased trade which a prompt settlement and free roads would bring her, and the cost of guards would continue to pile up.

Viewed from this business standpoint, it does seem like there should be no doubt as to what Council should do.

These are our views of the question as it now stands, and we will candidly admit that we have been rather strongly prejudiced against the companies for certain things growing out of the bond proposition vote fall. But our prejudices, as we have already stated, should not control us in the matter. The best possible terms should be secured, but the interests of the city demand that the question should be settled at once.

DREYFUS AGAIN.

The recent announcement that General Mercier, the famous Governor-General of Paris in '94-'95, would testify at the Rennes court-martial, has again directed public attention to this remarkable case. To give our readers a clearer conception of the situation, we reprint the following extract from an article published by a well-informed writer (Mare Belloc-Lowndes) in an English periodical, which appeared about three weeks ago. The writer says:

"It is not a little curious that the champions of Dreyfus, both in Europe and America, should have ignored so completely what seemed to observers, who knew France well, one of the most striking features of the affaire almost from the very beginning. Foreign opinion, with few exceptions, condemned the anti-Dreyfusards in a body as either knaves or fools. But it is the simple truth that the anti-Dreyfus flag has formed the rallying point of the most diverse elements. It was to those who knew France, as if Mr. J. Morley, Cardinal Vaughan, Mr. Balfour, Sir Walter Besant, Mr. G. R. Sims, the Duke of Argyll, Harry Marks and Lord Cross (Radicals, Conservatives, Catholics, Protestants, politicians, statesmen, savants, etc., etc.) all took the same view of some public question and publicly expressed their agreement. Obviously any opinion held in common by men differing so widely in intellect, character and pursuits, would deserve at any rate careful examination. Unfortunately, the majority of English observers did not pay sufficient attention to the remarkable variety of elements which went to make up anti-Dreyfus feeling in France."

Ignorant and prejudiced observers on both sides of the Atlantic could see in it nothing but a vile military conspiracy, or a fanatical crusade against the Jews, or a Jesuitical intrigue, or an attempted coup by Pretenders to the throne. In point of fact, it was purely and uncontestedly a spontaneous effort of that great military democracy to eject a real or suspected traitor from the heart of the French camp. Only this and nothing more. THERE, in that vast fortified camp known to the world as FRANCE, every citizen is a soldier, and not the slightest taint of suspicion may rest upon his loyalty to his comrades and to the State.

Of General Mercier, whom our enterprising Anglo-Saxon journalists have convicted in advance of a trial, the same writer says that while "it is impossible to touch on the personality of any of the military officers concerned in the Dreyfus case without an elaborate analysis of their action at various points of the complicated affair," General Mercier "stands high in the estimation of the best class of French officers," and, even so long ago as 1894, brought a bill before the French Chamber providing that treason should in future be punished with death. "No doubt," says this writer, "a certain number of persons in France adopted an anti-Dreyfus attitude from ignoble motives; but it is manifestly unfair to attribute the same motives indiscriminately to every one on the same side." Which is manifestly true; but how can such a consideration be supposed to affect the opinions of the infallible jurists of the tripod who fulmine daily, or hebdomadally, over the tumultuous and incorruptible democracy of the illimitable West?

THE STATE CONVENTION.

The Goebel-Stone Combination Won the Fight For the Temporary Organization.

It took the Democratic State convention at Louisville from noon Wednesday until late last night to effect a temporary organization.

The Goebel-Stone combination candidate Redwine won, defeating Hardin's man Sweeney after a bitter and exciting struggle. The vote was Redwine 551 1-6, Sweeney 529 5-6.

The convention then adjourned until 10 o'clock to-day.

The members of the M. E. Sunday school, from the oldest, who is Ike Lane, (but don't tell anybody) to the youngest scholar all desire to thank Mr. Thos. Best and his good wife for the use of their beautiful grove and that splendid ice water that was enjoyed by all yesterday at their annual picnic. We also desire to thank Mr. F. B. Clift for free toll.

A LOVELY BRIDE.

Marriage Wednesday of Miss Mayme White to Mr. John Edwards Ethell.

A Muncie, Ind., Gentleman Wins One of Mason's Fair Daughters—A Beautiful Wedding.

The residence of Mrs. David White, near Bernard, was the scene Wednesday afternoon of a most beautiful wedding, the occasion being the marriage of her daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to Mr. John Edwards Ethell, of Muncie, Ind. It was a perfect June day and the sun never smiled on lovelier bride.

The home was profusely decorated, the parlors in white and green, and dining room in sweet peas and ferns.

One o'clock was the appointed hour for the nuptials and to the sweet strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. Dr. White, came the bridesmaids a bevy of pretty young girls dressed in organdies of different shades. The bride and groom followed, taking their places before an embankment of flowers, where the words that made the twain one were spoken by Rev. W. W. Hall.

The bride was gowned in a simple robe of white Persian lawn trimmed in mousseline de soie and ribbons, her bouquet being of white roses. Always admired as one of Mason's prettiest and most estimable young ladies, she was certainly a charming vision of loveliness and maidenly modesty in her bridal robes.

After the ceremony and the congratulations and good wishes showered upon the newly wedded, the bridal party and guests repaired to the dining room where dainty refreshments were served.

Immediately afterwards the bride donned her going-away gown, a blue covert, tailor-made costume with hat en suite, and Mr. and Mrs. Ethell drove to Maysville where they took the 3:35 train for their future home at Muncie. The groom is numbered among that city's enterprising and most worthy citizens.

Among the guests from a distance were Mr. Nathan Ethell, father of the groom, Mrs. Charles Turner and Miss Fannie Turner and Miss Mae Thomas, all of Muncie, Miss Stella White of Shelbyville, Ky., Miss Clara Russell of Cincinnati and Mrs. James H. Martin, of Winchester.

CATLETTSBURG Independent: "C. and O. engine No. 79, which blew up at Maysville several weeks ago, is now on the tracks in the shop yard, at Huntington, but the indications are that the engine will be turned over to the scrap pile, as it is too badly wrecked to be repaired. It was a very small engine and was considerably out of date."

GUARDS REAPPOINTED.

But Only on Two of the Pikes—Citizens Patrol the Mt. Sterling Road Free of Cost.

The appointment of guards on the M. and L., the M. and G. and the M. and Mt. S. turnpikes expired Wednesday.

The officers of the Germantown and the Lexington roads at once applied for new guards for the gates and bridges, and Judge Harbeson granted them, for an additional fifteen days.

The Mt. Sterling Company did not apply for any guards so the number now on duty is reduced to about thirty.

As soon as the members of the Law and Order League heard that the guards had been taken off the Mt. Sterling pike they got together and guarded the gates and bridges on the road last night themselves and will continue to do so and see that the company's property is protected. Mr. John B. Furlong of Orangeburg authorizes the BULLETIN to state that he will give two nights each week to guard the gates on any road free of any cost whatever.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

The Son of a Former Maysvillian Meets With a Terrible Accident While Exploring a Cave.

A son of Mr. James Pierce, of Cincinnati, who formerly resided in this city, met with a terrible accident some time since that kept him at the hospital for several months.

He was traveling with some companions in Tennessee, and they were visiting a cave of some interest. While young Pierce was alone in a part of the cave, something gave way and he was precipitated into an abyss some forty feet deep.

His friends found him by his groans, and letting a rope down to him, he fastened it around his body. One leg was badly broken and he had to support it while he was being drawn up.

His escape from instant death is said to have been almost miraculous.

RURAL FREE DELIVERY.

The Postal Authorities Will Give It a Trial in Kentucky After July 1st.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Rural free delivery service will be pretty well established in Kentucky after July 1st, the beginning of the fiscal year. Applications for the service are pouring into the Postoffice Department here and are receiving careful attention. Special agents will be sent out when the appropriation for next year is available and the whole State will be thoroughly covered.

Congressman Pugh and Congressman Settle are the most pressing in their demands that the service be established. It was stated at the Postoffice Department to-day that every district in Kentucky where the population will permit will get a chance at the rural free delivery service.

The people of Allentown, Todd County, where the service was discontinued some weeks ago, are worrying the department for the re-establishment of the service, but the officials decline to take any action, saying that after the service has been tried in other districts the people of Todd County can have another chance, providing they will be good.

A Tribute to the Memory of the Late R. P. Jenkins

A friend who was deprived of the privilege of attending the funeral, desires to place a few blossoms of affection upon the grave of the late Robert Perrine Jenkins.

Seldom in Maysville or Mason County has a young life gone out that caused such universal regret.

Dear to a large circle of admiring friends, but dearer still to those who loved him in the charmed circles of home where he was the light, the joy, the very radiating center of attraction and affection. How desolate is home without him!

Not in eulogy—but to commemorate the virtues of the departed and to place some drops distilled from the balm of Gilead in hearts that bleed—these words are written. His name—the synonym of honor and manly virtue! Why should he be taken in his manhood's early prime before the sun had reached the zenith?

Born, May 7th, 1866; united in marriage with Miss Sallie B. Perrie October 18th, 1893, who survives him. To this union, two children were born—Julia, aged four; Frank Perrie—one year old. He became a prominent and efficient Knight Templar in his early manhood when young men are ordinarily mastering the rudiments of the mystic brotherhood. In early life he gave himself to the Savior, united with the Christian Church in whose communion he lived until June 7th, 1899, when he fell asleep in the assurance of a glorious immortality. A brief life—only a span from the cradle to the grave. Short as it was, he left an impress upon those who knew him best and upon those with whom he was associated in business that will long be cherished and will not wholly die.

It was appropriate that such a life should end in peace. As the sun without a cloud, he sank to rest—that peaceful departure is one among the rare flowers we scatter in memory upon his grave. He has gone to the land of perennial sunshine where the inhabitants never say, "I am sick," where the icy fingers of death do not untie the heart strings, where the children of our father are gathered in those "mansions prepared."

May all who loved him meet him there.

J. M. E.

In some Swiss valleys the inhabitants are all afflicted with goitre or "thick neck." Instead of regarding this as a deformity they seem to think it a natural feature of physical development, and tourists passing through the valleys are sometimes jeered by the goitrous inhabitants, because they are with out this offensive swelling. Thus a form of disease may become so common that it is regarded as a natural and necessary condition of life. It is so, to a large extent, with what are called diseases of women. Every woman suffers more or less from irregularity, ulceration, debilitating drains, or female weakness, and this suffering is so common and so universal that many women accept it as a condition natural and necessary to their sex. But it is a condition as unnatural as it is unnecessary. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription strengthens the delicate womanly organs and regulates the womanly functions, so that woman is practically delivered from the pain and misery which ensue upon years of her life—between the ages of fifteen and forty-five. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well.
